UL-classified fire protection

Your SentrySafe Fire-Safe product is classified by Underwriters Laboratories, an independent testing organization, to pass the following rigorous standards of fire protection:

• UL Fire Endurance Test

Subjected to temperatures up to 843°C (1550°F) for 1/2 hour (Models 6000, F2300 and F3300 - 927°C (1700°F) for a duration of one hour), the interior of the unit will remain below 177°C (350°F) to protect documents. Models 1710 and 6720 - The interior of the unit will remain below 52°C (125°F) and 80% humidity to protect computer and audio/visual media. (The unit withstands high-temperature exposure as fire moves through a building.)

• UL Explosion Hazard Test

Subjected to flash fire in a 1093°C (2000°F) furnace for 20 minutes, the unit will not explode or rupture.

NOTE: When the lid is closed, you may notice a slight gap or play between it and the body. This is normal, and does not affect performance.

Waterproof Protection

(F and H Series Models Only)

SentrySafe waterproof products have been tested by the independent testing firm ETL Semko and found to be in compliance with the following standard for waterproof submersion: With respect to a closed product with the latch fully engaged, when completely submerged in up to 2 inches of water above the uppermost surface for a duration of one hour, no more than 0.5 grams (8 drops) of water enter the product.

NOTE: All waterproof models must be closed with the latch fully engaged to minimize any water invasion.

Lifetime After-Fire Replacement Guarantee

If this product is damaged by fire at any time while still owned by you (the original owner), Sentry Group will ship a replacement free of charge, if you send the following to the Sentry office nearest you (see back cover):

- Your name and address;
- A description of the fire, with the model number and a photo of the burned unit.

Locating and securing this product

For maximum fire safety

Keep this product on the lowest secure floor in your home or business. If a fire damages the flooring, there will be less danger of injury to fire fighters below, or of damage to the unit's contents.

To assure that the unit will perform properly in case of fire, store it closed and locked, with the feet down. The front plate where the model number appears, should be facing out, not up.

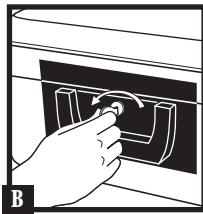

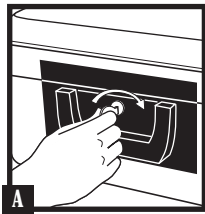

Notice: Media Safes 1710 and 6720

Store the SentrySafe media chest or file in a cool, dry location. Extended exposure to temperatures above 35°C (95°F) activates the special insulation in your unit that protects the contents in an actual fire. If activated prematurely, this insulation won't be "fully charged," reducing its fire protective capability. If stored in a cool place, the insulation will recrystallize, regaining the maximum fire protection required for sensitive computer media.

To lock and unlock

Two keys are packed with the unit.

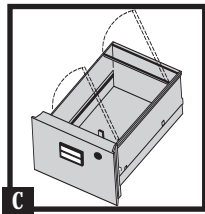

- To lock, insert the key (with the lid closed). Turn the key one-quarter turn to the right. Remove the key and store it in a secure place. (Fig. A)
- To unlock, insert the key and turn it one-quarter turn to the left. (Fig. B)

To install Model 6000

1. Open either drawer and notice three slot holes on each side.
2. Place one end of a rail in the front right slot, then push to snap the other end into the front left slot. (Fig. C)
3. Place another rail in the rear set of slots.

A4 hanging file folders will now fit in the drawer between the two rails.

Latch and lock operation for waterproof chests and files

(F and H Series Models Only)

To unlock and open:

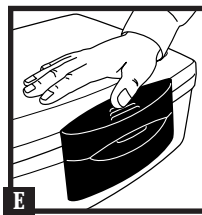

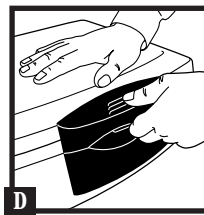

1. Insert key in lock and turn counterclockwise.
2. While pressing down on lid with one hand, squeeze latch button with the other hand to open product. (Fig. D)

To use latch feature:

1. Close and press down on lid to engage latch. (Fig. E)
2. Product can now be transported without locking it.

To close and lock:

1. Close and press down on lid to engage latch.
2. Insert key in lock and turn clockwise to lock product.

To open waterproof models which have been submerged in water:

1. Remove the unit from water.
2. Dry the exterior of the product with a paper towel, taking care to remove water droplets from around the opening.
3. Remove any excess water from in between the lid and the base.
4. Open the lid slowly; there may be a few droplets of water on the gasket. If so, dry with towel.

Keys could potentially be locked inside unit. To avoid this, do not open and place keys inside unit before relocking!

This product is not intended for nor recommended for the storage of firearms, ammunition, explosives, explosive devices or weapons. Sentry Group disclaims any responsibility or liability for any damage or injury resulting from the storage of these items in this product.
